New Boston, N. H., February, 1941.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Members of the School Board and Citizens of New Boston:

The teachers in your school at present are the same as last year. Ernest Nedeau, headmaster, Donovan Stevens, Ernest Fiske in high school and junior high, Dorothy Britton, with grades four, five, and six, and Natalie Hopkins, with grades one, two, and three. The school census in September found 98 children between the ages of 5 and 16 years as compared to 102 in 1939. But the total enrollment in schools in September of this year total 133 as against 128 last year.

There have been more tuition pupils in high school than in previous years, from Frankestown and Lyndeboro. Also two in the grades. The courses in Home Economics have enrolled 14, grades 9 and 10, and 7 for 11 and 12. Equipment in the new room for these classes includes one Crawford Range, one modern electric range installed by the Public Service Company, a fine 4 x 8 foot table made by the "shop" boys, one or two smaller tables, two sewing machines—one electric and one "treadle", and a good supply of cooking utensils. At the present time part of the work of the girls in the cooking classes has been correlated with the hot lunch program for all pupils lunching at school at the noon hour. Much of the "Supplies" are from the "Surplus Commodities" allotted for school lunches. Through the New Century Club it has been made possible to provide a lunch without charge to the pupils. A number of interested individuals have contributed various materials—milk, eggs, and sugar.

The response of the pupils has been most whole-hearted and enthusiastic. It is planned to carry on their lunches during the continuance of cold weather.

A "defense" shop course in auto mechanics has just been launched. Young men over 17 years and under 25 are eligible if interested. Thirteen have been enrolled—which is all that there is room for. The expense of the course is provided for by a "defense" allotment to the state. While the shop and shop tools will be used, any lost or broken will be replaced and all new equipment will be bought and installed and paid for from the fund. At the close of the shop classes the equipment will remain in the shop for use in the regular shop work of the agricultural or other groups.

These classes are to meet fifteen hours per week for eight weeks. The group here will meet probably much of the time from 7 o'clock in the evening to 10 or on another schedule giving 15 hours per week as all are working during the day. Those who attend and complete the work for this period will receive a "certificate" as evidence of this training. If anyone holding such a certificate is called into the "Service" he will find it quite to his advantage. If he does not enter the "Service", he will have had this training which ought to be of much help in the usual run of things.

Luther Colburn, Willie Leland,—members of the school board—Ed Colburn, Albert Shedd, Paul Saltmarsh, and Clinton Smith are members of the Advisory Committee which helps in directing this work. Lawson Smith will be the instructor.

When this period of eight weeks is over, if there are those desiring it, another course may be offered. It might repeat the auto-mechanics or one of the following: Metal working, electricity, or carpentry and woodworking. Any one of these would continue for another eight weeks.

It is hardly possible for one who has not been following rather closely the work of schools in recent years, to realize what changes have come. How often the few parents who "visit schools" remark about the "attractive"—books there are today. This attractiveness naturally is the first thing to be noticed. But the difference from years ago is not merely in the attractiveness of books and their "covers".

In beginning reading years ago, it was felt entirely necessary to know most if not all the letters of the alphabet before a child could think of reading. Today, a child may learn to read before ever hearing of the "A—B—C's". Some may still say it just can't be done. But not only can it be done, but is done everywhere. Children can soon build up a vocabulary so they can read simple stories about boys and girls like themselves, about pets and animals in which they all have an interest. The "word-list" gradually grows, increasing the range of the stories. As they go on they become accustomed to certain forms and sounds of letter or combinations of letters. The ones most needed are learned as needed. After a time it comes about that the alphabet has taken care of itself. Children are not interested in the "A—B—C's" as such. They are interested in the interesting stories.

In the "Readers", too, the type of material has changed. You may remember or may have seen the Reader which began:

"In Adam's fall
We sinned all. "

The early readers had a large portion of religious material. The New England Primer had about 75% religious "material" and 13% "moral", and 12% secular. Modern Readers have about 2% "religious" material, 23% "moral" material, and 75% secular. This religious material has become less and less until now it has almost disappeared. This is not an argument for or against its return. Rather a statement to illustrate this change in material and emphasis.

Not only have the Readers changed in appearance, what's in them has just as radically changed.

Histories have changed. The long list of dates—the "facts"—or alleged facts—the data concerning campaigns and battles—ad infinitum—have pretty much passed as such. The emphasis now shifted to the meaning of it all, what idea was in it or through it, what outcome, what contribution has this individual or that made? The emphasis on the importance and place of individuals, and ideas, that have become a part of our heritage.

Biography, re-written, as one we have of "Lincoln", a book, read and reread, until it's worn out. That biography and others, have more inspiration than a memorized list of dates and unimportant happenings. Books come now, for schools, with such titles as "We, the Guardians of Liberty"—a Lowell Thomas book, "Stand Fast for Liberty", reminding young people of the cost of our "rights and privileges", and the challenge, of real men, to safeguard them—and another title—"America My Home".

There is no "subject" in schools, that has not changed both in content and in method. Whether we like it or not, these changes have come. Material for children's books is not selected because adults think it's "good for them", but chosen rather on the basis of child interest and ability. "Methods" have changed not merely for the sake of change but as a result of trial and experiment which show the new or revised way to be more effective.

With appreciation for the cordial support of the schools by the various groups and individuals, in the community along with the school board and teachers this report is

Respectfully submitted,

T. BYRON TARNEY,

Superintendent of Schools.
